

Paralegals

Paralegals at Rogers & Hardin are given a great deal of responsibility. Along with a full case load, some have supervisory responsibilities over caseworkers who are assigned to their team. Paralegals are not micromanaged, but work directly with partners and associates to serve the clients.

While an ABA Paralegal Certificate is highly valued, Rogers & Hardin also recognizes the value of years of actual paralegal experience in a law firm setting.

"It has been a privilege for me to work with and assist the highly credentialed team of attorneys here at Rogers & Hardin. The firm maintains its position as one of the top law firms in Atlanta because of its unique mix of talent, experience and training, and also because of its deeply rooted commitment to professionalism and teamwork. It has been very fulfilling for me to be a part of this team.

Over the years, my position and purpose have been recast many times. Not only has this provided me with new challenges and learning opportunities, it has also given me assignment diversity and job evolution. It has allowed me to sharpen my technical and paralegal skills on an ongoing basis."
